Managing Employee Performance, Behaviour & Attitudes

course code: M1088 From: 22 July - 2 August 2024 Venue: Singapore - course Fees: 5500 Euro

The Course

The key to understanding and managing people effectively is to know something about what makes people tick. What are the things that determine individual behaviour and motivation. This programme looks at the underlying assumptions we make about human behaviour and explains them. In particular the workshop will apply this knowledge to understanding how to make Performance management more effective and efficient.

The Goals

As a result of attending this workshop, delegates will have developed:

- A clearer understanding of human behaviour
- A clear appreciation of how attitude affects behaviour and motivation
- Be clearer on how to manage employee performance by:
 - Having practiced performance appraisal interviewing
 - Having worked through discipline and grievance case studies and examples
- A clearer understanding of their behaviour and attitudes

The Process

The workshop uses a variety of learning methods, including mini-lectures, extended case studies and self questionnaires. There will also be small group work, class discussion and multimedia training aids.

The Benefits

- Be more effective as a manager or supervisor
- Get the best out of your people
- Have developed a clearer picture of their own attitudes and behaviour, and therefore also, of the motivation, attitudes and behaviour of other people.
- Improve your skills in practical performance management – such as appraisal, discipline and grievance

The Results

- Delegates will be better able to achieve results that rely on interaction with other people
- Delegates will be able to get the maximum out of the performance management system
- Delegates will be able to develop their confidence and interpersonal skills
