The Course

What do we mean by leadership? Where does influence fit in? What are some of the “best practices” in leadership over time and how do they apply to modern business today?

“Best Practices are the practices chosen by world class leaders who have used their influence to change their environment - government or business - for the good, or to improve their organizations success ratio”.

Organizational development literature contains a wide variety of definitions and descriptions of leadership. Some people argue that leadership and management are quite different and that they require a different perspective and skills. Others hold that leadership is a facet of management and that influencing is a facet of leadership.

“A leader is someone who sets the direction and influences people to follow in that direction.”

This programme series establishes what some of the industry leaders do, to improve their organizations’ position through effective leadership. We will study the best practices from industry leaders whose techniques have proven to work in the local and global markets.

Each practice will include a way in which any leader in the market can apply the practices learned to improve their own environment. In addition, case studies are delivered through videos with a hands-on activity and team case questions, to further provide an insight into how to make these practices work in your own environment.

It is recommended that the Delegate attend this program for the full two weeks in order to reap the maximum benefits towards becoming a world class leader. Each segment is designed to teach and demonstrate essential best practices. At the conclusion of this program, the Delegate will be able to understand, and apply the skills learned in this seminar.
